

Macarthur Future Food Forum Community Garden Workshop and Tour

The Macarthur Future Food Forum presents the second in our series of three workshops for 2016

Come and join us during Fair Food Week to experience some of Macarthur's fantastic Community Gardens and also take part in hands-on skills workshops.

The tour and workshops are facilitated by two Community Gardening gurus, Sue Gordon from MDSI and Philip Pettit, the Community Greening Co-ordinator from the Sydney Royal Botanical Gardens Trust.

Become versed in best practices for community gardens: viability, engaging your community, producing fresh, healthy foods using organic practices and hear firsthand about successes and challenges of community gardens.

The workshops are free and a light lunch is included by Café Kulcha, a local community social enterprise.

Join us and celebrate a gathering of gardeners and gardening. You'll visit a variety of gardens and get your hands dirty developing practical skills for your garden.
